Singapore's attraction as one of the leading hubs and prime destinations for foreign investment in Asia is unrivalled. In a breakfast meeting conducted by Dr. Andreas Respondek, the German-Thai Chamber of Commerce would like to offer members and guests a unique chance to get a first hand impression and summary about the current investment regulations in Singapore and how these regulations can be used to the investor's advantage and benefit, focussing on:

- Establishment of private limited companies (Procedures, shareholders, board, minimum conditions, company secretary, use of nominees, ACRA)
- Formation of a Representative Office (time frame; costs; duration)
- Employment regulations for foreign investors
- Investment incentives in Singapore (Economic Development Board; Spring; IE; MAS etc)
- Permanent residence (conditions and caveats)
- Corporate tax situation (comparison to Thailand)
- Dispute resolution (legal system; court system and arbitration; the SIAC)

Seminar attendants will receive the updated "Singapore Investment Guide" (130 pages; in German) for free (usual price: THB 2,000).

The Breakfast Seminar will be held by Dr. Andreas Respondek (admitted to the Bar in Germany and the USA, Chartered Arbitrator; www.rflegal.com) who worked in various Asian countries since 1994 as Managing Director and Legal Consultant for various MNC's and maintains offices in Singapore and Bangkok since 1998, assisting and backing-up the sustained growth of his European clients on the legal side.

Kindly transfer the participation fee by 13 June 2012, to Chamber's account Bangkok Bank A/C 118-301859-5, please fax pay-in slip to us at 02-670-0601.
